Mr. Gunnerson talks to Mr. Tellari.

Mr. Dele Gunnerson, Vice Principal.

Mrs. Judy Delaney, Secretary to the Vice Principal.

Mrs. Lillian Campbell, Secretary to the Principal.

The administration office carried the responsibility of running every school in the Peninsula School District. This includes ordering of books and school materials, budget, hiring of teachers, maintenance and transportation for the high school, Goodman, and all the elementary schools in the district.

The administrators in our own high school were Mr. Skurdall, Principal; Mr. Gunnerson, Vice Principal and Director of Extended Education; and two newly appointed administrators, Mr. Roy Anderson, Director of Activities; and Mr. Tellari, Director of Curriculum.

Counselors

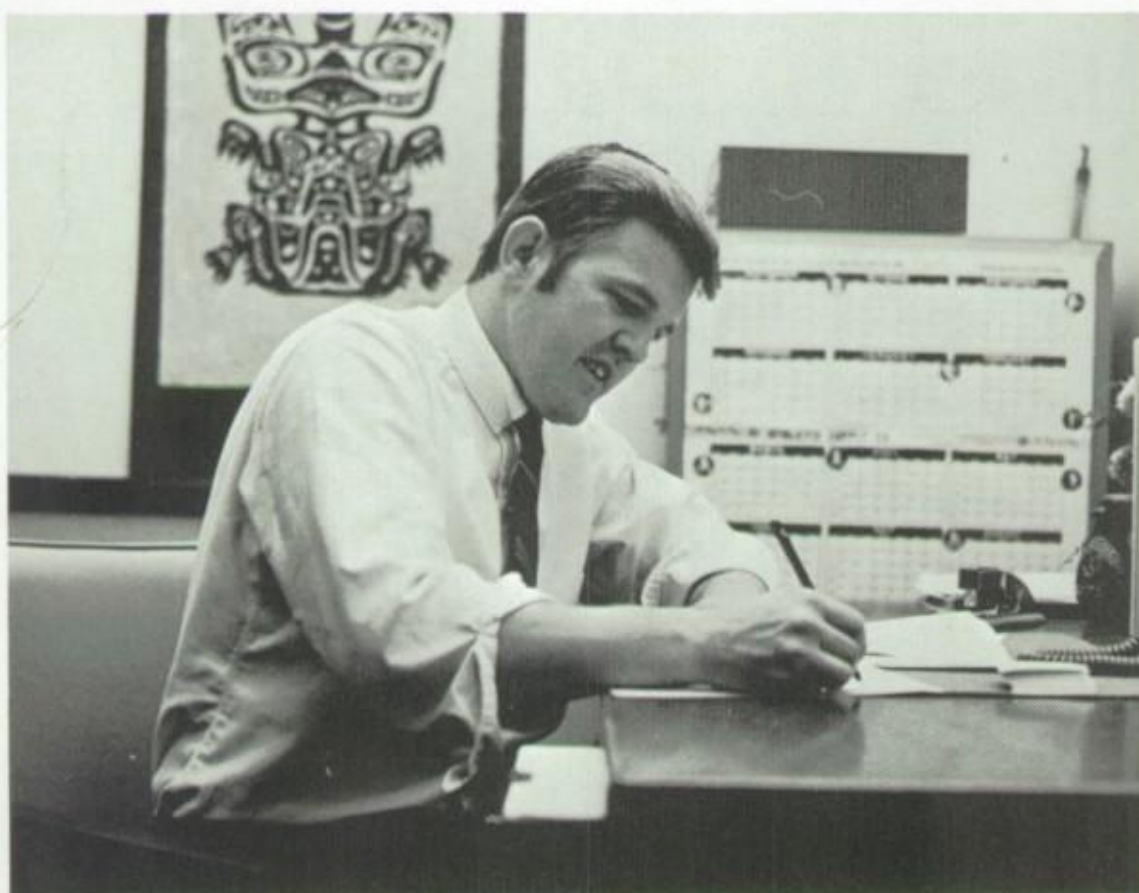

Counselors Guide Students

Mr. Dolaine Nelson; Counselor

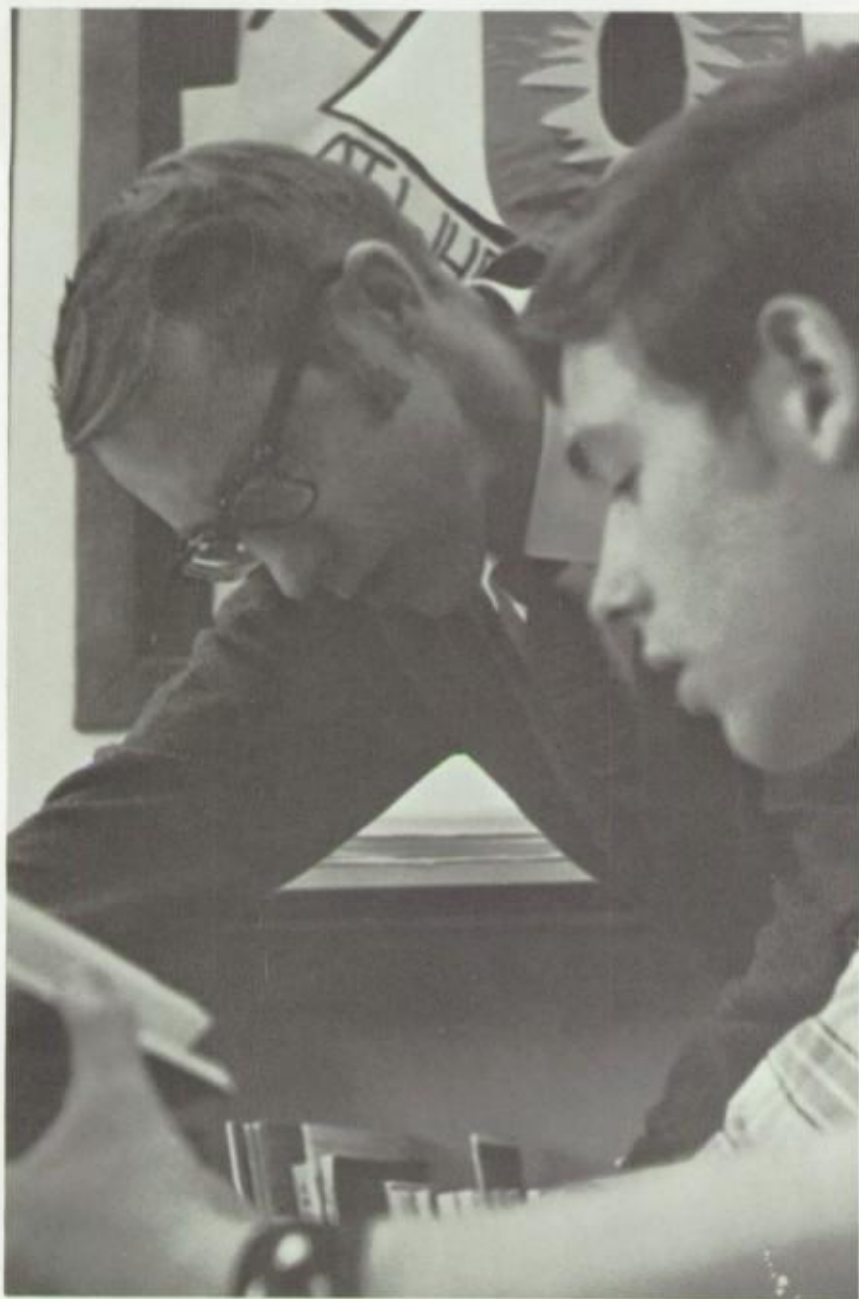

Mrs. Lillian Campbell; Secretary

Mr. Roger Iverson; Counselor

Our high school counselors accomplished a great deal more in a day than most students realized. They were a reference shelf for seniors and juniors who were thinking ahead to their future jobs and careers. In addition to this, the counselors helped the students plan and change their high school class schedules. Another one of the counselors many duties was advising the students' parents of any difficulties their child might have. The counselor's job didn't end with the close of the school day, but they were always available to be of service to both the students and the faculty.

Industrial Arts

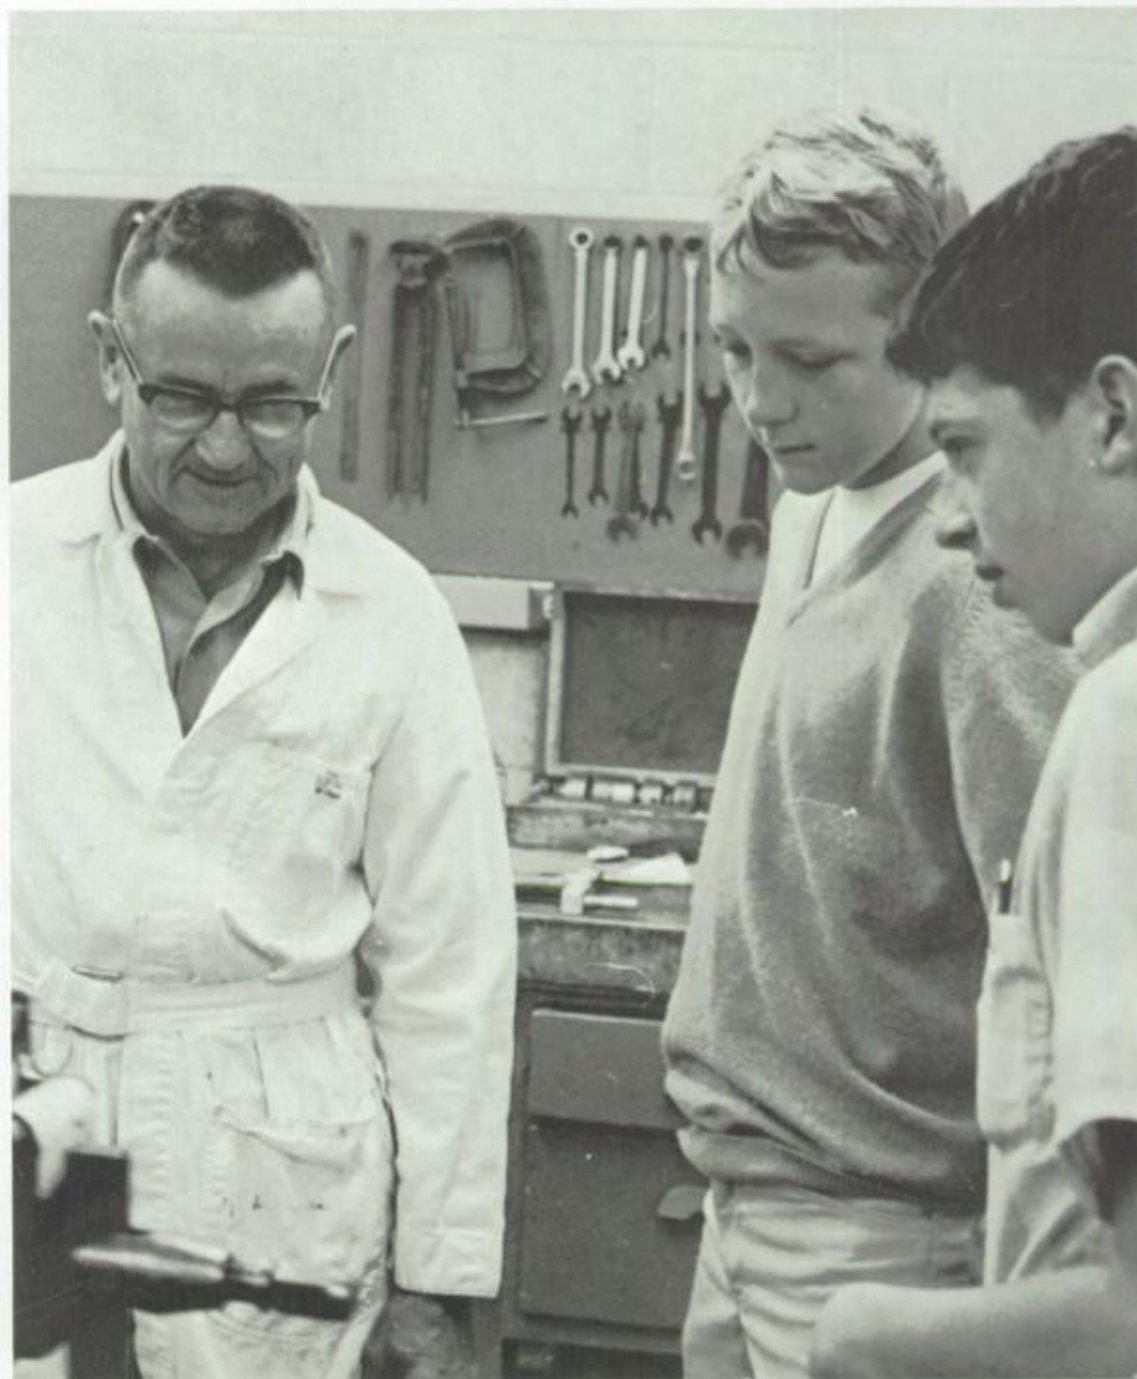

Industrial Arts played an important part this year, as it has every year, in the curriculum of Peninsula High School.

Why? Because it allowed the student to create, to put knowledge and skills together, to put his personality into something tangible.

Classes offered included various art classes, graphic arts, plus wood, metal, and auto shops.

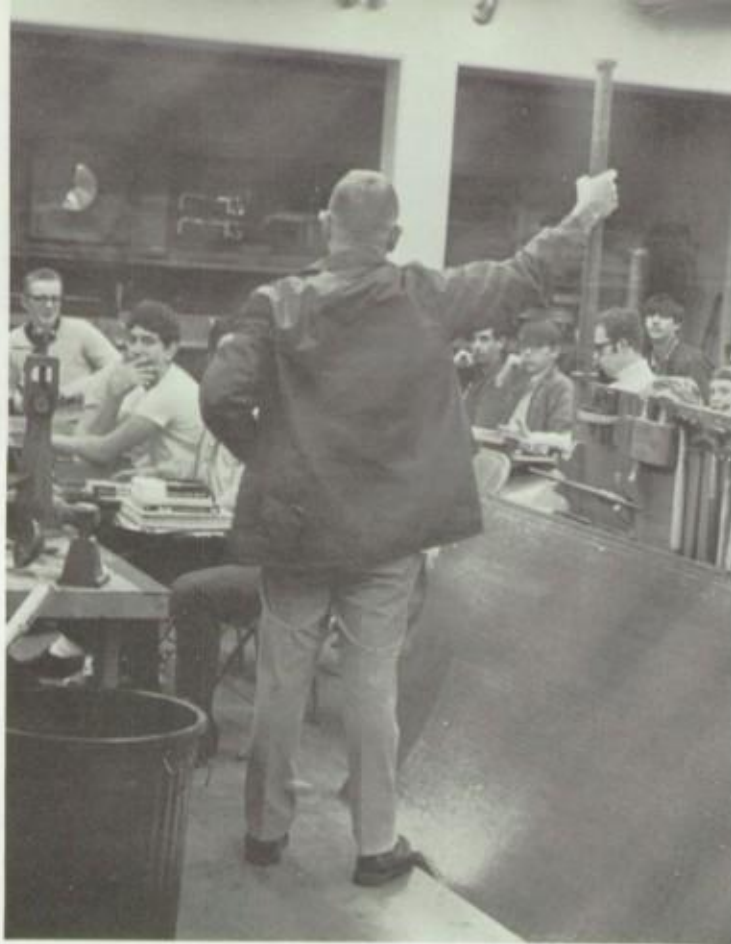

Mr. Jerry Winchell, Driver Training and Mechanical Drawing.

Mr. Hillard Beller, Wood and Metal Shop.

Business

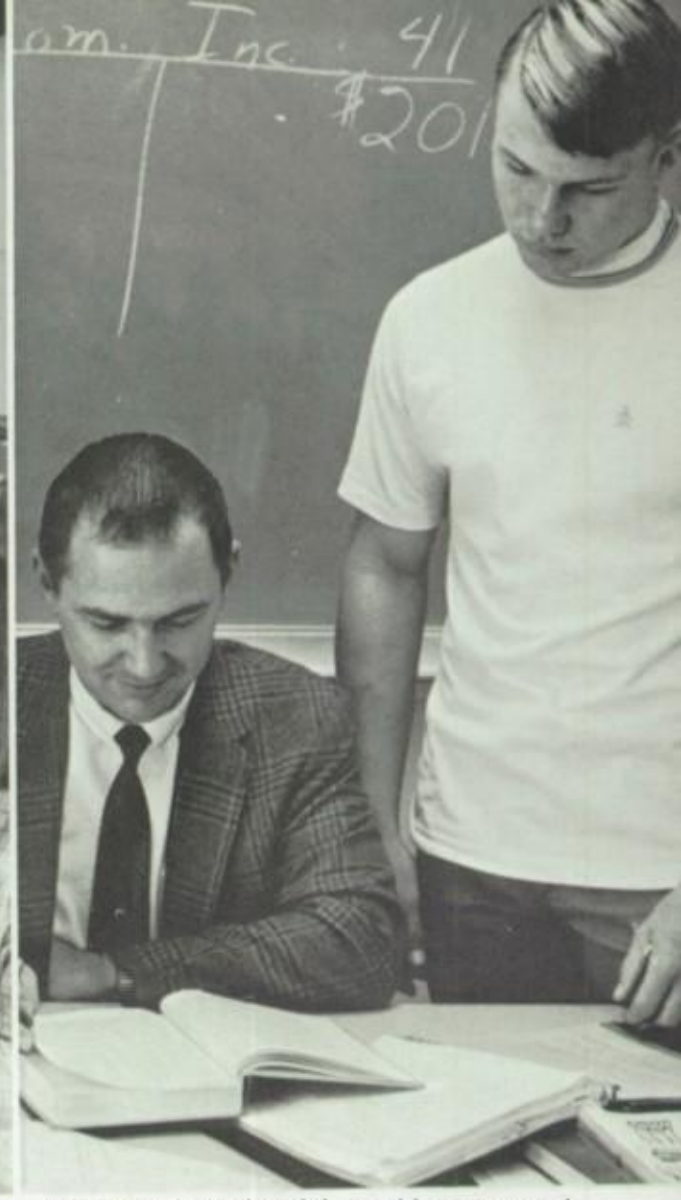

Education

Business education has rapidly expanded to meet the demands of the business world. To meet this demand the teaching staff doubled along with the courses offered. A few of these courses were: clerical assistance, business machines, office procedure, and second year bookkeeping.

Electric typewriters, business machines, and others, were all added to make this growth possible.

Foreign Language

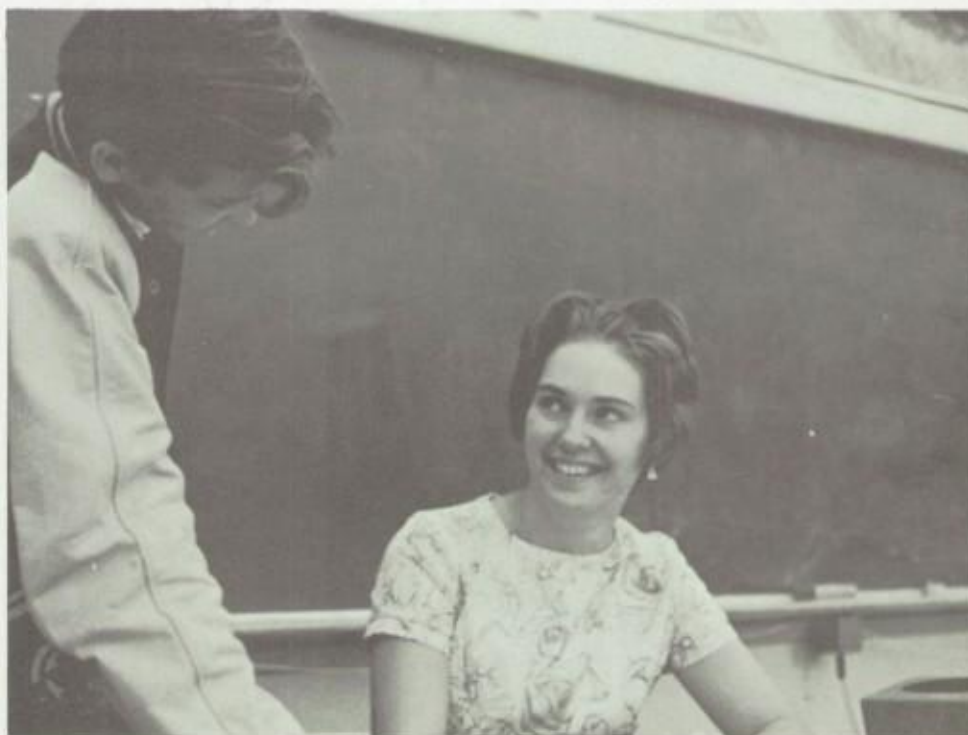

The purpose of the two foreign languages offered at Peninsula High School, Spanish and German, was to try to acquaint the student to the ideals of the people of the country they were studying. The first two years were offered as a basic foundation which the student could build on with the more advanced classes. Games and films were used to make it more interesting.

Mr. Grave discussing Spanish with his advanced class.

English

Peninsula's English classes provided a variety of subjects. These included speech, drama, poetry, and mythology. Teachers rotated their classes every four and a half weeks. The students looked forward to seeing a new face in front of the class and just like the students, teachers enjoyed seeing and teaching new pupils.

The English Department also included two journalism classes, Annual Production, whose main purpose was to produce the Kwaheas and a class that published the school paper, the Outlook.

Health

and P.E.

This year the health classes went coed and tried to focus on the problems of the individual in our modern society. Drugs, sex education, mental retardation, and smoking were all covered. The first semester, swimming classes were replaced by a coed first-aid course, due to the uncompleted pool.

Some new actions found in the gym this year were fencing and modern dancing.

Special Education

The two prime objectives of Special Education were: one, that the average child could proceed effectively, and two, that the exceptional child could have equal educational opportunities. These classes used a work-study program in which Juniors and Seniors spent one hour a day working at a vocation for which they received a credit.

Library

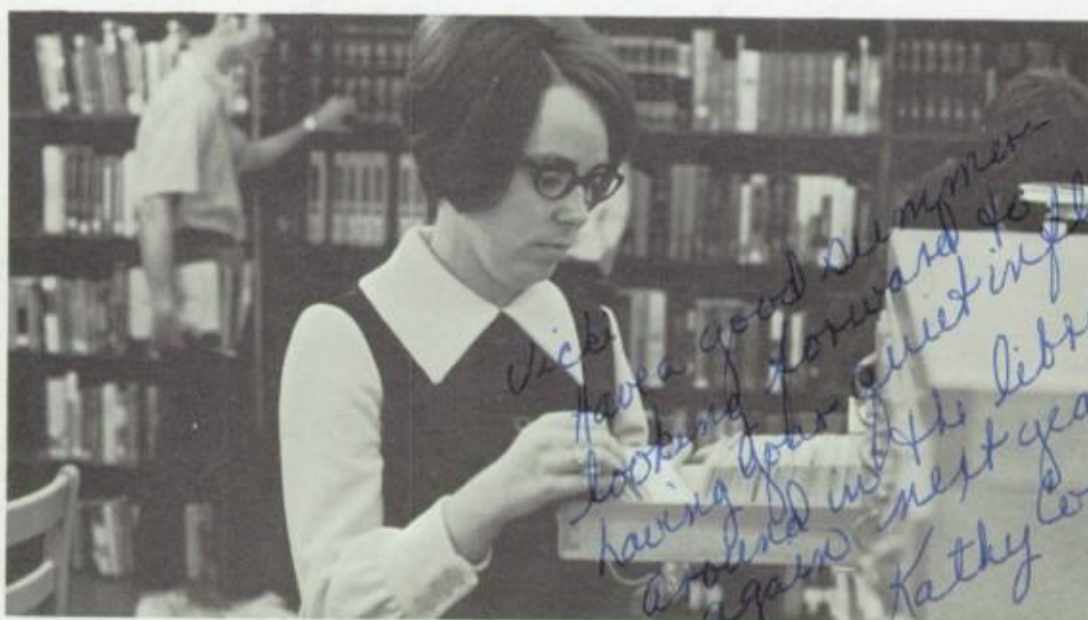

A much needed new library replaced the old facility at Pen High. The new library will provide a greater variety of materials and will be large enough to hold one hundred and eighty students at one time. The library will also house the audio-visual center and it will include a dark-room and a curriculum library for the faculty.

Student Council

Led by Rick Tarabochia, the 1969-70 Student Council worked on revising the associated student body constitution. This was a major project for the council since the constitutional changes would effect everything from activity card sales, the year-book budget, to the possible change in school colors. The council worked closely with faculty and administration to produce these improvements.

Clubs and Organizations

Kiwanis Club of Gig Harbor Supports New Club at Pen Hi

Key Club

Key Club Officers: Mike Snowden Treasurer Dave Tarabochia Vice President, Carl Ash Secretary, Bob Clark President.

Key Club, part of the Kiwanis International was an active new club at Peninsula. During the year the club helped the school and community in many projects. One of their most noticeable achievements was a program by four convicts from Walla Walla State Prison. Advisors were Mr. Iverson and Mr. Tellari.

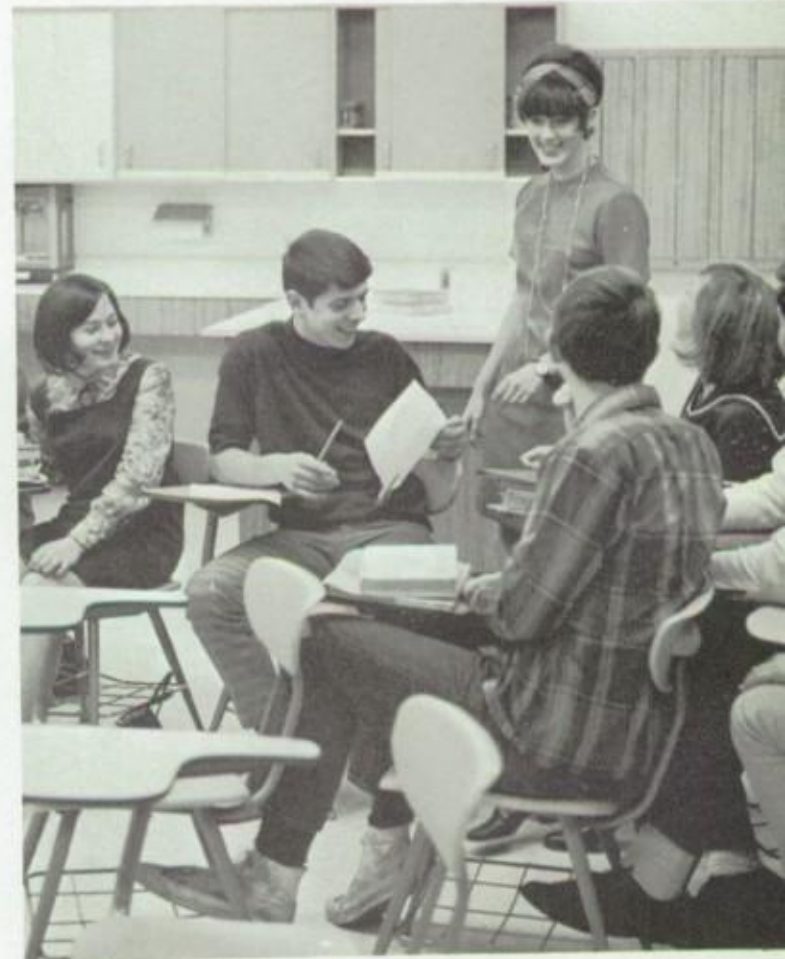

Bob Clark discuss future plans for Torch with other members.

Torch Club Officers: Barb Sather Treasurer, Wendy Davies Secretary, Rick Peterson Vice President, Bob Clark President.

Torch

Torch is a service organization that honors outstanding students. The club this year strove to increase school activity and spirit. The club sponsored dances, chaperoned the Truman bus and had a tutoring service. Mrs. Wise was the advisor for 1969-1970.

President Bob Clark opens the Torch meeting.

S.F.A.

Last year SFA had a goal to re-strengthen the contact with our partner school in Germany. The first project was to send mail to Jon Engle, which was a packet containing issues of the outlook and short letters from students of the school. Then for Christmas they sent a book on the state of Washington. New advisors were Susan Steensland and 'Frida' Smith. To earn funds to send the 1970 exchange student to Germany, Window Insurance was sold for Halloween, Candy Canes at Christmas, and the main project was KTNT Radio Day, which was a big success.

Girls Club

The Girls Club had, for the first time, a big and little sister picnic this last summer. It was held at Kopachuck State Park for the incoming Freshmen girls and their big sisters.

Besides sponsoring Homecoming, the Tolo and the Mother's Tea, the Girls Club went together with the Boys Club and held a "Canned Food Drive" for the needy families in the Gig Harbor area during the Holiday Season. Also during the Holiday Season the Girls Club was busy making trips to Madigan Hospital. They brought food baskets full of Christmas snacks and visited with the wounded soldiers.

Imagination Corporation

Imagination Corporation was a newly formed club made of primarily art students. One of their projects first semester was a fund raising drive to paint the hall lockers. They also supplied bulletin board designs for counselor's office and the main hall bulletin board. The I.C. also took field trips and planned an art show and pottery sale.

Chess club officers, Charlie Bowles and Todd Worswick.

Chess Club

The Peninsula Chess club added to the variety of interesting activities offered at Peninsula High. The Chess Club was advised by Jack Brady. The club met during activity periods once a week. Many a game was carried over to the next week, if after school game time was unavailable.

Representatives for the 1969-70 school year were senior Chuck Bowles and freshman Todd Worswick.

In its second year of existence, the membership of Chess Club greatly increased over their first year.

F.T.A.

FTA had a successful year under the advisorship of Mrs. Ondeck. Many new projects were undertaken such as teaching at the new Purdy Elementary School, postal correspondence with Buckley Rainier School, and teaching on student day. These projects proved to be a lot of fun and good experience for the members.

Red Cross

The main objective in Red Cross this year was to perform various activities for local hospitals and rest homes. Among these services were folk singing and entertainment at a local rest home, and the making of party boxes for hospitals during the holiday season. They also sent Birthday cards to patients at Western State Hospital. Red Cross accomplished much during the course of the year.

Pep Club

This year an enthusiastic Pep Club helped the cheerleaders promote school spirit at Peninsula. Under the leadership of President Julie Ellsworth, and the advisorship of Miss Jan Iversen, Pep Club painted signs, decorated lockers, and supported the team at all games and other sports events.

Elderberry wine anyone?

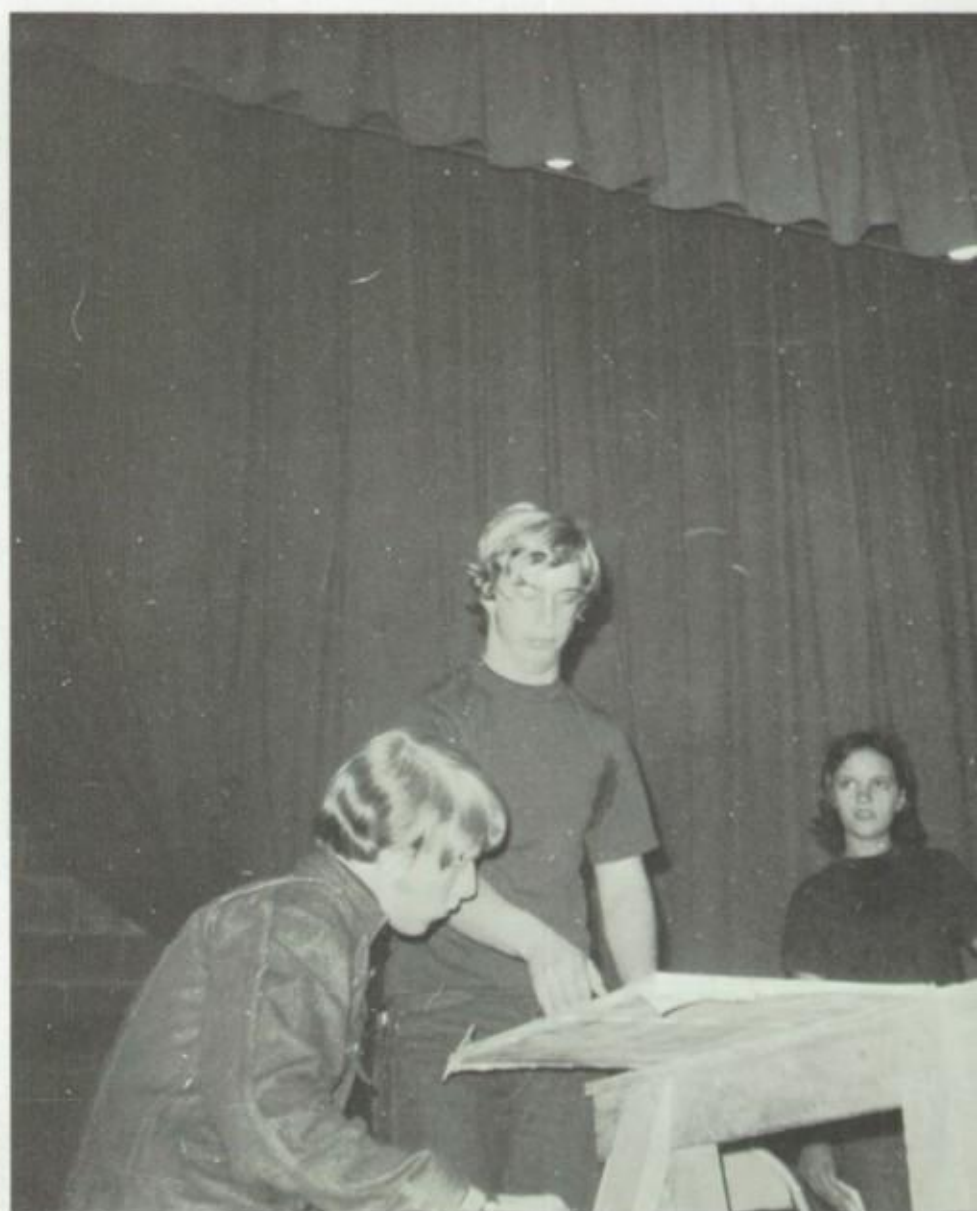

The school's first play of the season was the old comedy favorite, Arsenic and Old Lace. The cast included some old stage veterans like Paul Bonney, Dave Boyd, Christy Case and Neal Vietenhans. Along with these, there were some newcomers, Carolyn Kooley, Rob Jones, Ruth Warner, and Bob Phillips.

All did a tremendous job, especially under the circumstances. The gym was closed and the whole works had to be shifted to Harbor Heights. This did not keep it from becoming an excellent production and another success for the director Mr. Boyd.

The set was of real antiques and some were quite valuable, which made the cast a bit nervous but everything worked out fine.

By the time the play was over the cast was so enthused, all were ready to try out for the Mid-winter plays.

Band

This has been a year of adjustment, discovery, and lots of plain hard work for the band. The band's new director, Mr. Mark Armstrong, had a lot of fresh, new ideas to help make it a successful and rewarding year. With their new band uniforms, the band added to the school spirit at football and basketball games. They also performed at such things as: The Pop Concert, The Band Festival, The Spring Concert, and the Daffodil and Rhodedendron parades.

CHOIR

This year the choir was directed by Mr. Milton Boyd, and was applauded for their many performances. Among these performances were: the pop concert at Goodman, the St. Nicholas Catholic Church, and Scandia Gaard in Gig Harbor. During the holiday Season they sang at the Tacoma Mall. They practiced hard and sang well at the Seamount League choir Festival.

Class of 70 Presents "Harbor Lights"

Prince Don Tietz and Princess Heidi Jones

Prince Karl Peterson and Princess Maxine Bjornstad

Prince Charley Gordon and Princess Jan Henderson

A light house, a warf, a view of Seattle, and a misty old cafe, all a part of the Seniors creation, "Harbor Lights".

Co-Chairmen Karl and Max worked frantically with the help of Mr. Velez and Mrs. Black to make everything just right. After a lot of long, hard planning, over 100 couples came into the world of Harbor Lights.

The couples danced on into the night with the music provided by the Shilo. The night was a success and many memories were taken with them.

Co-Chairmen; Maxine Bjornstad and Karl Peterson

King J.C. and Queen Debbie Reign Over

Never Never Land

Over 200 anxious Juniors started out to decorate the gym on Thursday night, but who would have ever thought that the gym would be condemned. Under the circumstances, Harbor Heights was made available and Co-Chairmen Terry and Debbie planned everything beautifully.

Corners were decorated in "Never, Never Land" fairy tales such as Jack and the Beanstalk, Rip Van Winkle, The Three Bears, and good old Mother Goose.

After long hours of work, the night finally came. Music was provided by the Jolly Jacks.

Couples crossed the bridge from the world of reality to the world of fantasy.

Homecoming

Homecoming week began with Hush Day, Mr. Ugly Contest, and the girls decorating the football players lockers. Then there was the assembly, who ever heard of a charriot race? And some of the football players gave us a little dance along with the coaches performances. At last, the secret of royalty was out, King Bill Carlson and Queen Denise Schillinger, Senior Prince and Princess Dave McHugh and Christie Case, Juniors Mark Metsker and Debbie Hogg, Sophomores Doug Lyle and Debbie Frlan, and Frosh Dick Meyer and Bonnie Day.

Homecoming night began even though the game was lost, there were such things as the halftime parade with the royalty, Floats, and music by our band. And finally the dance came, music was provided by the West Coast Movement. The royalty was announced again and all in all, Homecoming 1969 was great.

FROM TOP TO BOTTOM: Frosh Dick Meyer and Bonnie Day, Sophomores Doug Lyle and Debbie Frlan, Juniors Mark Metsker and Debbie Hogg, Seniors Dave McHugh and Christi Case, King Bill Carlson and Queen Denise Schillinger.

Bob Cole and Rob Mitchell make the tackle.

Peninsula's record this year did not compare with the spirit and hard work the team demonstrated all year. This is a difficult thing to do, considering. But, the team was ready and waiting for every game they played and always produced 100% effort.

Maybe next year. The J.V.er's lost only two, and with sixteen returning lettermen, we may have a chance.

This year's outstanding team members were: Terry Hauser who received the inspirational award, Ken Babich and Ed Nelson who were voted "Most Dedicated" to the sport.

Shortly after the season had begun their home was shut down. They had to have their practices held at the Goodman Junior High Gym and the Freshman had to go to the Key Peninsula Civic Center. All because of one difficulty many problems arose.

All the games were away, even the home ones. The Hoopsters put up with a lot of trouble and hardship, but the team morale was kept high by Coach Roger Iverson.

As for the Freshman they worked hard with Coach Ron Kingsbury to make his first and also their first season at Peninsula one worth remembering.

The starting line up was usually found to be Seniors Kevin Krause, John Holm, Mike Ryan, Brian Bergman, and Junior Rick Tarbit, with a good deal of underclass power on the bench.

Wrestlers Go

Goodman was the wrestlers home away from home due to the condition of the high school's gymnasium. Spectators were tops compared to previous years. Another first for the matmen was that they won their first match in the three years that wrestling has been a varsity sport at Peninsula High School.

In his first year at Peninsula High, Coach Raoul Ancira brought many new ideas and new strategy to the 1969-70 Matmen.

Peninsula Mermen New to Pen High

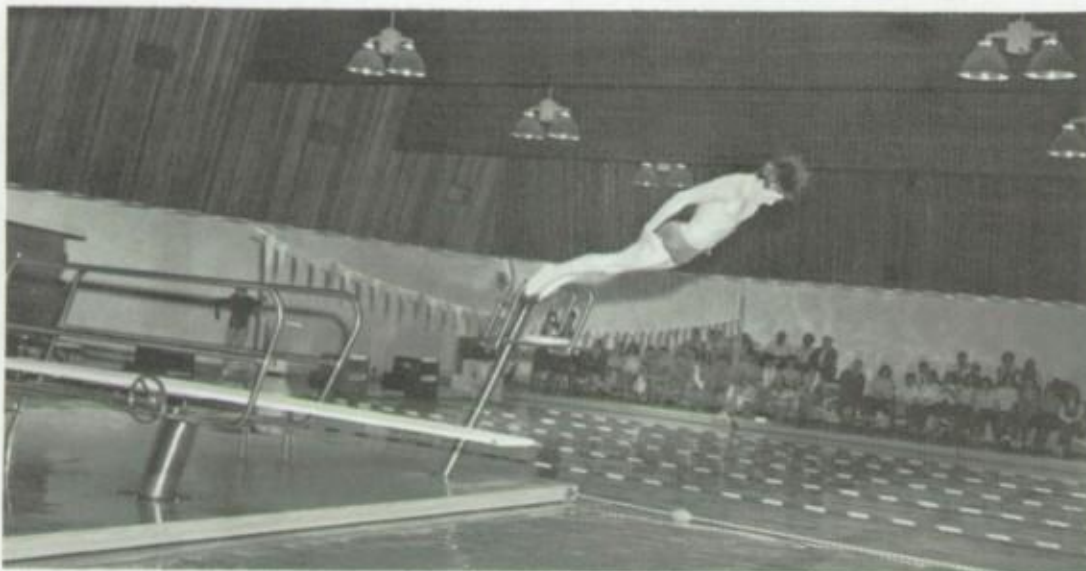

Along with a new swimming pool, Peninsula added a new athletic event and team to the winter sports schedule. The Peninsula swim team had a struggling, hard working first season. The boys won several meets and each swimmer surpassed many an individual goal during the season. The team improved a good deal as the season progressed.

Mr. Kimo Streeter was head swim coach for the 1969-70 season. The first three months of the season saw Coach Streeter riding a bus with his team to Lakes High School for turnouts. January 17, 1970, was the first day of practice in a home pool.

The swim team competed with teams from such schools as Lincoln, Stadium, Rogers, Clover Park, Jefferson, and Shelton.

Outstanding shooter on Peninsula's team was Senior Carl Ash. Other team members who shot in league matches were Brian Wood, Guy Leonard, Mike Marlatt, Mike Speen, Matt Speer, Marc Hastetler, Steve Gillis, and Mike Glosen.

Peninsula's Tyro Rifle Team also was undefeated. The top three on Peninsula's team were also high three in the league. They were Mike Speer, Matt Span and Mike Glosen.

New Coach Inspires Tennis Team

What were we trying to do in Tennis? Win! That was, of course, one of our objectives. More important the Tennis program hoped to give a number of students an opportunity to learn a fun and life-time sport. The development of coordination, endurance, and healthy attitudes were all encouraged. Sixteen people were involved. This assured a future for varsity players, who have had actual experience in the program. To sum it up; Tennis was fun, a lot of work, and a rewarding experience, and this years team was expected to do well in league and post league competitions.

Peninsula Students at Work and Play

Junior class advisors: Mrs. Dulcie Schillinger and Mr. Pete McIntyre.

The third year of high school brought on a revolution. A revolution in which students realized the importance of life and the responsibilities that accompany it.

Having an active interest in extra events, music, sports, and clubs became an important part of Junior life. And they prepared themselves for being the future leaders of the school.

Showing their leadership this year were Dave Tarabochia, as president; Sue Bucholz, as vice-president; Lynette Knapp, as secretary; and Barbara Grande, as treasurer. As advisers, Mrs. Schillinger and Mr. McIntyre guided them to lead the Junior class.

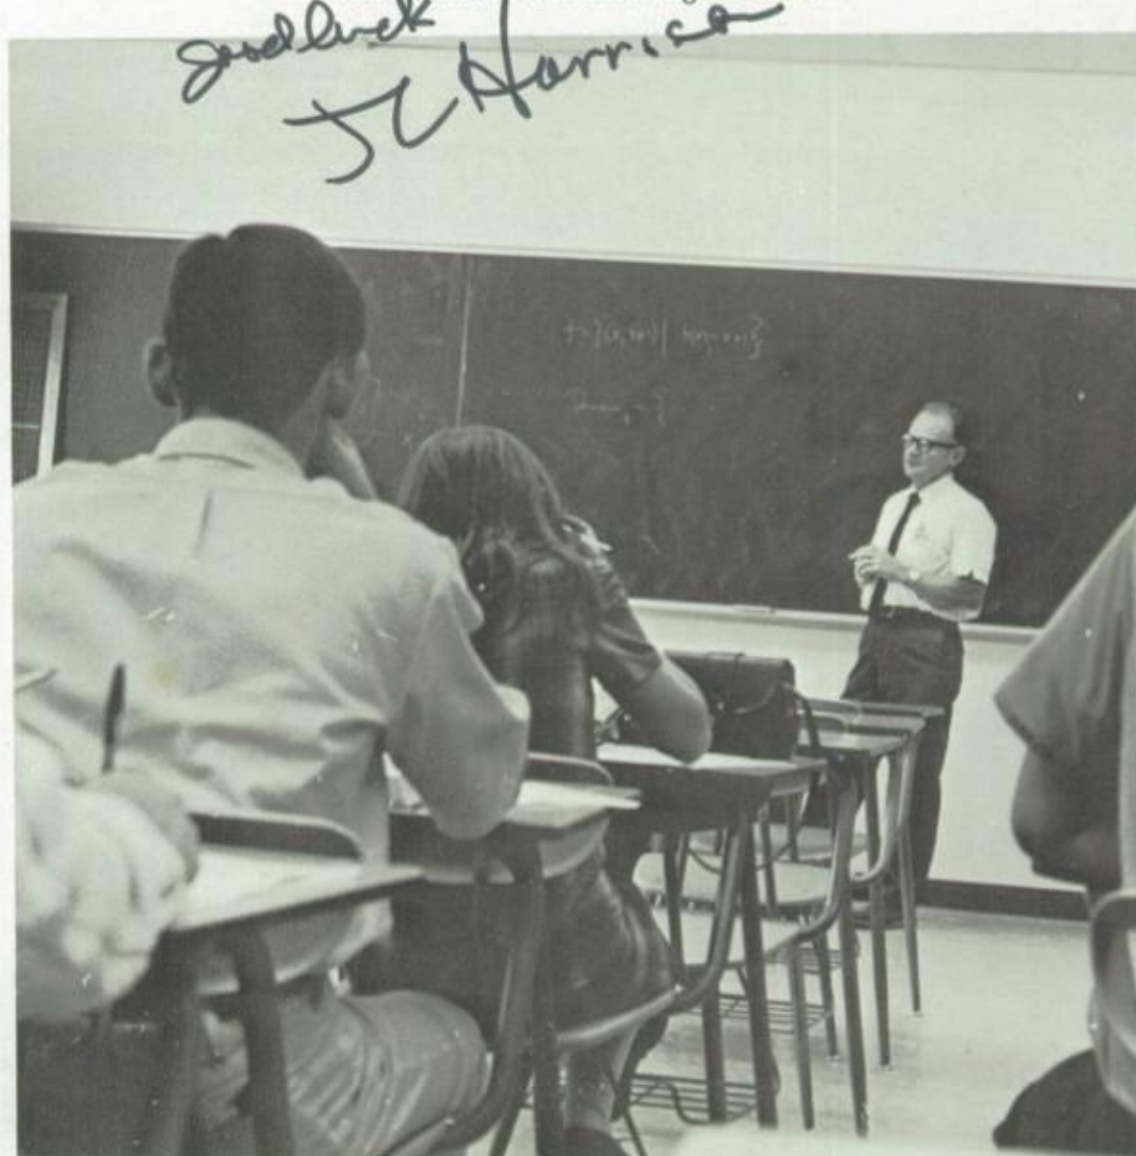

Keeping the school cheering were varsity cheerleaders; Queen Janet Payne, Debbie Hogg, Becky Finholm, Heidi Peterson, Darlene Cone, and Becky Marvin, all who are Juniors.

Cheering wildly, the Juniors boosted the team's spirit at the football games. For Homecoming, the class chose Debbie Hogg and Mark Metsker to reign as princess and prince at the annual dance.

Junior class officers: Dave Tarabochia, President; Lynette Knapp, Secretary; Sue Bucholz, Vice President; Barbara Grande, Treasurer.

Sophomores Attempt Second

Sophomore class advisors: Mr. Waage and Miss Crosby.

They were no longer "the beginners" the frosh who have been teased, trampled, and talked about. Last year they proved that even though beginners, they could still manage high school problems right along with the rest. So what happened? They had to prove themselves as sophomores and they did. This meant taking on more responsibility, but they felt they could handle it.

Leading the sophomore class were Doug Lyle, as President; Guy Hoppen, Vice President; Barbara Hersee, Treasurer; and Patty Cone, Secretary. Mr. Waage and Miss Crosby helped the kids prepare themselves for being the upper-classmen next year.

Girls' Glee practices at something, but what?

Frosh class advisors: Mrs. Ondeck and Mrs. Brindley.

The freshman year was always said to be the hard year. This was the year when the freshman had to adjust from being the big eighth graders to the little freshmen. This was the beginning of four very important years. This was a time when they became a part of Peninsula by being in different organizations.

The freshman who were chosen to lead them through their first successful year of high school were President, Rob Gaschk, Vice President, Ron Cameron, Secretary, Karen Dewalt, and Treasurer, Marla Hogg. Others who we gave many thanks to are the class advisors. Mrs. Brindly and Mrs. Ondeck helped to make this freshman year a memorable one.

Freshmen girls at work in P.E.

Today's Leaders Provide for

It all started as a frosh. Then not being quite as bad as a frosh, you're a sophomore, though still not an upper-classmen. A year later your a Junior, with opportunities to demonstrate your capabilities and your qualities. Finally the biggest and best year of your high school education, now your a senior, its been a long haul.

As seniors, we had two successful dances, "Never Never Land" was the class of '70's Junior Prom, and "Harbor Lights" was the theme for our Senior Ball. This years Seniors were the first to publish an A.S.B. phone book to help raise funds for the Senior Ball.

Class officers, President Steve Wood, Vice-President Charley Gordon, Secretary Carol Garrison, and Treasurer Neil Sether, were advised and counceled by Mr. Manuel Velez and Mrs. Patricia Black, senior class advisors.

Senior class advisors: Mr. Manuel Velez and Mrs. Patricia Black

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE "CLASS OF '70" licks, how Well, how was your 1st year

at high school? Well,
next year will be better!
I hope I see you this summer, come down if you can!
Love, Sina

Vickie,
This has been some year, let me tell ya. Have fun this summer, and be good.
OK see ya next year.

lots of love, "72"

Vickie,
It's been nice knowing you this year, maybe I'll see you this summer.
Love,
Janet

Debbie

Vickie,
You're a real sweet girl and I like you that way. You will probably be the next Miss Homemaker U.S.A.
lots of luck and I'll see you soon.
Love always,
Pandy

Vickie, It's really been nice knowing you. I hope you have a real good summer this year. I'll see you next year, and I hope you'll be in choir next year (so you can play the piano!)
Love,
Dana

Rid I'd want you to come to the pool and have fun together and have a good time to see you soon.
Love,
Pandy
